

REASONS TO CONSIDER

High Growth Potential

As ransomware attacks grow increasingly sophisticated, global cybersecurity spending could increase from $162B in 2023 to more than $435B in 2030.⁽¹⁾

Structural Tailwinds

Cybersecurity markets are fragmented. It is estimated that nearly 50% of security spending goes to inefficient services, creating opportunities for large cloud-native vendors.⁽²⁾

Unconstrained Approach

The realm of cybersecurity extends far beyond personal computers. BUG invests accordingly, cutting across traditional sector and geographic definitions.

Investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. Cybersecurity Companies are subject to risks associated with additional regulatory oversight with regard to privacy/cybersecurity concerns. Declining or fluctuating subscription renewal rates for products/services or the loss or impairment of intellectual property rights could adversely affect profits. The investable universe of companies in which BUG may invest may be limited. The Fund invests in securities of companies engaged in Information Technology, which can be affected by rapid product obsolescence and intense industry competition. International investments may involve risk of capital loss from unfavorable fluctuation in currency values, from differences in generally accepted accounting principles or from social, economic or political instability in other nations. BUG is non-diversified. The information provided is not intended for trading purposes, and should not be considered investment advice.

Carefully consider the Fund's investment objectives, risk factors, charges, and expenses before investing. Shares of ETFs are bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemed from the Fund. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns. Beginning October 15, 2020, market price returns are based on the official closing price of an ETF share or, if the official closing price isn't available, the midpoint between the national best bid and national best offer ("NBBO") as of the time the ETF calculates current NAV per share. Prior to October 15, 2020, market price returns were based on the midpoint between the Bid and Ask price. NAVs are calculated using prices as of 4:00 PM Eastern Time. The returns shown do not represent the returns you would receive if you traded shares at other times. Indices are unmanaged and do not include the effect of fees, expenses or sales charges. One cannot invest directly in an index.

Since the Fund's shares did not trade in the secondary market until several days after the Fund's inception, for the period from inception to the first day of secondary market trading in Shares, the NAV of the Fund is used to calculate market returns.
